Bill To Be Introduced
In Legislative Council

DIRECTOR OF MEDICAL SERVICES

An ordinance, to give effect to the change in name and style of the offices hitherto known as those of Director of Medical and Sanitary Services and Deputy Director of Medical and Sanitary Services, will be introduced at the Legislative Council, according to a draft bill published in the Government Gazette.

The bill is being introduced at the request of the Secretary of State in order to preserve uniformity in the nomenclature of scheduled posts of the Colonial Medical Services. The new offices will be known and styled respectively as "The Director of Medical Services" and "The Deputy Director of Medical Services."

The ordinance to bring this into effect will be cited as the Director of Medical and Sanitary Services (change of name) ordinance, 1936. It is made quite clear that nothing in the ordinance will be deemed to involve an abolition of office or to affect the powers, duties or responsibilities attached to any office whereof the title has been changed.

The Colonial Surgeon (change of name) ordinance, 1897, and the Principle Civil Medical Officer (change of name) ordinance, 1923, will be repealed.

SINO-JAPANESE NEGOTIATIONS

Tokyo, November 1.
The seventh interview between General Chang Chun and Mr. Kawagoe, which is expected to take place to-morrow, was described by the local papers to day as the "last stage" of the present negotiations.

The latest news reporting the Generalissimo in Loyang receiving important military leaders in North China and his recent statements particularly the one given to the "Ta Kung Pao" (Impartial) correspondent in Loyang, are admitted as signs of the rising patriotic movement throughout China, and the enthusiastic and unique manner of celebrating the Generalissimo's birthday has given Tokyo a remarkably impressive and crazy effect.

Farewell Cocktail Party On

"QUEENIE" SAYS
GOOD-BYE

(By ANNETTE)

The farewell Cocktail Party given by H.M.S. Kent was an enormous affair and also a very successful party. Everybody you could think of seemed to be there and at one period it was practically impossible to move in spite of the large amount of space there was to accommodate everybody. A space had been cleared for dancing but nobody did so until the end of the party, and then only a few couples.

THE MILWAUKEE ROAD

TO GET RID OF STOMACH TROUBLES

An English Doctor
writes:—

"I find that 'Bisurated' Magnesia taken after most of my meals is the only thing that keeps me free from pain and discomfort, and I take it regularly. I often prescribe it for my patients, and have had very good results."
(Signed) Dr. H. G. M.A., M.R.C.S., L.R.C.P.

THE English doctor is the most conservative medical man in the world, and when he not only recommends but personally uses a remedy there can be no more convincing proof of its efficacy. This doctor is but one of many who constantly advise the use of 'Bisurated' Magnesia in all cases of indigestion. Most stomach trouble is caused by acidity, and the reason why 'Bisurated' Magnesia gives quick relief is that it instantly neutralizes excess acid and soothes, heals and strengthens the inflamed stomach lining. Nothing could be simpler, safer or surer. If you suffer with indigestion or stomach disorder of any kind put your faith in European science and make an end of your troubles by taking 'Bisurated' Magnesia after eating or whenever pain is felt.

SUCCESSFUL ROMANY FAIR IN KOWLOON

St. Andrew's Church Big Effort

CYPSY ENCAMPMENT IN GROUNDS

Arrangements that were carefully planned by a hard working committee for some considerable period culminated in the Romany Fair which was held in the St. Andrew's Church grounds on Saturday afternoon and was voted by all an unqualified success. Ideal weather favoured the function and the grounds presented a very colourful scene with an unending throng of people making their way to the different stalls or sideshow attractions. Pretty girls, dressed in gipsy costumes, lent a touch of the real fair spirit which prevailed throughout the afternoon.

Shortly before 3 p.m. Lady Caldecott, the wife of H. E. the Governor, Sir Andrew Caldecott, arrived to declare open the Fair. Her Ladyship was accompanied by His Excellency and attended by Capt. W. J. R. Cragg, A.D.C.

ADDRESS OF WELCOME

In his address of welcome, the Chairman, the Rev. J. R. Higgs said:—

"Before I ask Lady Caldecott to declare this Fair open, I want to say just two things. A word of thanks to all who have helped us and a word about the objects for which we have organised this Fair again this year.

"Mr. Dawson and Mr. Kirby have been our secretaries this year and they, together with the stallholders and helpers, are worthy of praise beyond any words I can find to express it. Many too of the firms both of Hong Kong and Kowloon, the Police and the Press and a host of others have assisted us, and we say a big 'thank you'."

"The proceeds will go to the V.D.M.A. and our own church. That may sound a prosaic thing to say. Actually it means that away up in the interior of China some poor child will receive an education, some hospital or dispensary will be given money to help it carry on its splendid work, some one will hear the Gospel for the first time. That is what it means to give, to the Victoria Diocesan Missionary Association.

"In our own Church it will assist with all the work in which we are engaged, spiritual, moral and charitable. That is what we mean when we say that a part of the money will be given to St. Andrew's."

"It is now my very pleasant privilege to welcome Lady Caldecott and His Excellency the Governor to our Gipsy Camp. It is the first time we have had the honour of their presence and we trust we do not appear too awe-inspiring. We are very harmless gipsies!

"We appreciate more than we can say their goodness in being with us to-day. I now ask her Ladyship to declare the Fair open." (Applause)

Lady Caldecott then declared the Fair open, saying, "I have very much pleasure in declaring this Fair open. I wish it every success." (Applause)

Lady Caldecott was then presented with a bouquet of violets by little Patsy Dawson, who was dressed as a rickshaw-man, pulling a miniature rickshaw behind her, and on the seat of which lay the bouquet of violets.

FUN OF THE FAIR

After Lady Caldecott had declared the Fair open, a large crowd passed through the specially erected gate leading to the Fair grounds.

All the fun of the Fair was to be found. There were the breeches hoop, coconut shy, chequered table, hoop-la, score a goal, darts, skittles, goldfish bowls, and the spot, bran tub, and gipsy cauldron, arranged by St. Andrew's Rovers and Scouts, Wolf Cubs and Brownies. All attracted many customers.

A feature of the Fair was the children's fancy dress parade which attracted a large number of entries. Many very original and lovely costumes were displayed by the juvenile contestants and a bright scene was presented as they made a complete circuit of the ground.

"WENDY'S HOUSE"

"Wendy's House, in the Trees" arranged by Mrs. J. R. Higgs, proved a special treat for the children while the Fellow of Youth's presentation of two excerpts from "Lavengro" (By George Borrow) was very well acted and won the admiration of the large audience. The plays were produced by Mrs. L. E. Kirby and Mr. R. Baldwin.

People who wanted their future told by hand reading or cards were received in a tent by "Carmen."

The Ovaltine Kiosk, arranged by the Advertising and Publicity Bureau, attracted much attention, and this of this popular beverage were rapidly disposed of.

The Romany tea garden, under the leadership of Mrs. R. Baldwin assisted by a band of helpers, was well patronised.

CHINESE ENTERTAINERS

Chinese entertainers lent unique contrast and their performances were extremely clever and well received. The balancing feats were outstanding. During the afternoon selections were played by the band of the 1/8 Punjab Regiment by kind permission of Lt. Col. J. C. Brewer, M. C. and Officers.

At night a dance was held in the Church Hall, and was well attended. The M.C. was Mr. E. F. Fincher.

Among those who attended the Fair during the afternoon were Lt. Col. Reid, Major and Mrs. R. C. S. Bates, Major C. T. Primer, Major M. H. A. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Abbott, Mr. J. A. Fraser, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. E. Jeffries, Mrs. H. H. Rose, Mr. H. Gittins, Mr. M. F. Key, Mr. H. Nish, Mr. R. Dormer (Treasurer), Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Martin, Mr. A. C. Jeffries, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Kirby, Mr. Dawson, Mrs. F. W. Stapleton, Miss N. W. Bascombe, Rev. and Mrs. J. D. MacLean, Rev. H. C. Davies, C. F. Mr. D. Orr, Miss J. Broadbridge, Miss P. Stringer, Misses Lalibet, Mrs. Woolley, Mr. J. S. Gibson, and many others.

EQUINE SPORTS CLUB

First Annual Dinner And Dance

SUCCESSFUL FUNCTION

There was a happy gathering present at the Rose Room of the Peninsula Hotel on Saturday night when the Equine Sports Club held their first annual dinner dance. The function was a great success.

The Rose Room was tastefully decorated and amongst those who attended were Mr. Lawrence Kadoorie, the patron of the Club, Mr. J. L. Quie (President) and Mrs. Quie, Mr. and Mrs. K. Begdon, Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Maund, Mr. Munton, Mrs. Steele, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Rose, Miss Gubbay, Mr. W. A. Butterfield, Mrs. B. Elder, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Shim, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Sin, Mr. and Mrs. Rose, Mr. and Mrs. Turnbull, Mr. and Mrs. Sweeney, Mrs. and Miss Woodford, Mr. and Mrs. Campbell, Mr. A. Dinan, Mr. L. Landau, Mr. G. Gilles, Mr. F. A. Olsen and many others.

PRESIDENT'S SPEECH

A very attractive dinner was served, while the table was arranged in the shape of a large horse-shoe. In addressing the meeting, Mr. J. L. Quie, president of the Club, said:—

"It is very gratifying to the Committee and myself to see so many members and friends here to-night—the occasion of our first annual dinner. Although the evening is yet early I think it safe to make a prophecy that it is going to be a complete success, which augurs well for future similar events."

"A great deal of hard work has been done by the sub-committee formed to make the arrangements to-night, and our thanks and congratulations are due to Mr. and Mrs. Dinan and Mr. Rose. Our thanks are also due to Mr. Dimond for his hearty co-operation."

PROPOSED GYMKHANA

"I want to take this opportunity to inform members that it is proposed to hold a gymkhana at the end of November—the exact date of which will be notified later. We hope to see as good an attendance of members and friends then as we have here to-night—in fact, we are hoping that by that time many of the guests here to-night will have become members and joined our happy family. Most of the items in this gymkhana will be novelty events, where even the most inexperienced rider stands a chance. I may mention that the Kadoorie Cup, presented by our Patron, will be awarded to the member securing the most number of points over the day."

The presence of Mr. Kadoorie here to-night shows the interest he has in the welfare of the Club and I take this opportunity of calling upon him to say a few words."

MR. KADOORIE'S SPEECH

Replying, Mr. Lawrence Kadoorie said:— "It gives me very much pleasure to be here to-night, and to see how the Equine Sports Club has succeeded and expanded since I last addressed you."

"That you have to listen to me again is due to your very energetic and enthusiastic president. You run a great risk—having heard me twice I do not doubt that there will still be a third time."

"In thanking you for this very pleasant evening courtesy demands that I should not inflict upon you a long peroration. Let me only make of this an occasion to wish you continued prosperity, co-operation and happiness."

"We are now sitting around the largest horse-shoe in Hong Kong—I hope it may bring to us all, jointly and severally, the very best of luck."

HONG KONG RIFLE
ASSOCIATIONLarge Attendance At
Week-End ShootBRILLIANT SHOOTING BY SGT.
BLANDFORD, R.M.

Despite the fact that owing to the restricted target accommodation available, the Council of the Association has found it necessary to debar the use of the Stoncutters range, when available at week-ends, to all affiliated members of the Regular Army, over fifty members competed on Saturday afternoon at a week-end Spoon & Practice Shoot, held on the Naval Range by the courtesy of the Naval Authorities.

Conditions were, from the shooting point-of-view, anything but ideal; not only was there a very tricky "fish-tail" wind, but the light, which was poor from the commencement, became so bad at 600 yards that, with the naked eye, it was almost impossible to pick out the targets from the background, quite apart from being able to pick out the aiming mark from the target itself. In these circumstances, a score of 34 made by Fusilier Richards of the 2nd Bn. Royal Welch Fus. who after an "inner" for the first shot, to count, put on no less than six consecutive "bulls," was a meritorious performance, far away above the normal achievement.

The second three-figure aggregate score made this season, fell to Sgt. Blandford of the Royal Marines, who with a score of 32 at 300 yards, a "possible" (35) at 500 yards, and a score of 33 at 600 yards, managed to reach the century mark. Nor must the score of Sgt. Warwick, also of the Royal Marines, be overlooked, for this well-known shot with range totals of 32, 32 and 33 equalled that made by Fus. Richards, the latter taking priority of position owing to his score, at the longer distance (600 yards), being better than that made by Sgt. Warwick.

As is the custom followed by the Association, Sgt. Blandford, R.M. takes, as a matter of course, the "nett" spoon for the S.R. (b) shoot, as well as a special souvenir for his three-figure score. His "prize-list," however, does not end here, for he also won the "handicap" spoon, shooting with the S.R. (a) rifle, a feat which, as far as can be traced from the Association's shooting records, has never before been achieved.

Signs are not wanting that the recent free issue to the Royal Navy of the "1914" rifle, following the example set by the Regular Army, is producing quick results in the case of those ships of the China Fleet which have already arrived in Hong Kong for the winter. On Saturday afternoon there were several members of the Senior Service competing, who were using the "1914" rifle, and there is little reason to doubt that as time goes on, and ships arrive in Hong Kong, this number will gradually increase.

The leading scores made are as follows:—

NUN'S THEFTS FROM CHURCHES

Went In To Pray

A London nun of the Anglican Church—Winifred Mary Caruthers, aged 46—who was said to have dedicated her life to the service of the London poor, was bound over at Macclesfield on charges of stealing vestments from St. Peter's Church, Stockport, and £4 from the vestry at St. George's Church, Poynon, Cheshire, during a service.

Mr. John Addleshaw (defending) said that there was no possible explanation for the offences unless there was lack of mental balance. The first offence was committed when she went to the church to pray. She became frightened, and threw the vestments away. When questioned at the convent, he said, she denied the offence, but it evidently preyed on her mind, and she began to walk back to Stockport, day and night, to find the vestments and return them. On the journey she was at the end of her resources, and committed the second offence.

WESTERN ABYSSINIA

Questions Asked in Commons

London Oct. 29.

Replying to a question in the House of Commons about the position in Western Abyssinia, the Foreign Secretary said that during the rainy season there had been, so far as he was aware, no appreciable extension of the area occupied by the Italian forces.
The latest information indicated, however that an Italian column was advancing on Jimma, while another was making its way northwards from the Kenya frontier and was believed to have occupied Allata, approximately half way to Addis Ababa.

In Western Abyssinia and the other territories so far unoccupied by the Italian forces, there had been much tribal unrest, coupled with the disorders between the Galla Amhara and Arab elements. The situation in the unoccupied provinces had continued steadily to deteriorate. A telegram received from Gambella a week ago reported that civil war was believed openly to have broken out between Amhara and Galla in the Western Provinces.

SITUATION IN PALESTINE

Regarding Palestine, the Colonial Secretary announced that arrangement had been made for a Royal Commission to leave England at the end of next week, and expressed hope that its labour would conduce to the peace and prosperity of all communities.

He said that since the end of the general strike, the situation as regards disorders, had improved rapidly throughout the greater part of the country.

In another answer, Mr. Ormsby Gore said the question of martial law did not in these circumstances arise.—British Wireless.

SPANISH CIVIL WAR PROGRESSOffensive Against Capital

Paris, Oct. 31.

The Nationalists offensive against Madrid became defensive at several points when the Government troops carried out well organized attacks, though according to reports from Toledo, these were repulsed after severe engagements.

The Nationalists detachment under the command of Colonel Margo succeeded in occupying several villages in the vicinity of Guadalajara, when they were attacked by the Militia which employed heavy artillery and armoured cars. The Militia finally withdrew leaving over 100 dead on the battle field.

Constant transportation of troops and supplies behind the Nationalist lines, indicate that a major offensive on the city is not to be delayed much longer.

Prisoners taken by the Nationalists report that food supplies in Madrid are extremely scarce and are being rationed out to persons with food cards, these being issued only to those whose political beliefs and activities are above suspicion.

It is reported, also that several demonstrations have taken place before the French consulate buildings in several towns controlled by the Nationalists; due to it is said to the order delivered by the French Government to the effect that Spanish refugees wishing to return to Spain may do so only through the harbour of Barcelona.—Transoceanic News Service.

BOMBS DROPPED

Paris, Oct. 31.

From an official Madrid source, it is announced that the insurgents who have hitherto confined their bombing operations on the Madrid front to aerodromes, dropped a number of bombs on the city causing numerous deaths.—Transoceanic News Service.

OVIEDO CONTROLLED
BY INSURGENTS

Burgos, Oct. 31.

The district surrounding Oviedo has finally been cleared of the Marxist group, who are reported to have fled into the hills following the fall of the city and the Nationalists are now in charge of the entire sector.

The village, Somiedo, which is believed to be the last point of resistance, has also been evacuated by the Militia groups and is now in the hands of the Nationalists.

In the Northern sector, the 7th Division by careful manoeuvring succeeded in gaining an advantage over the Militia troops encamped at Vallente, forcing them out of the town.

An advance of three kilometres is reported in the Sorla section and connection has been established between Algora and Cutanilla.—Transoceanic News Service.

NO INTERVENTION
BY ITALY

Rome, Oct. 31.

Italy's intention to intervene on the sea and in the air in the Spanish crisis, reported in papers published abroad, was emphatically denied by the Minister of Propaganda here, who added that such reports were calculated to cause misunderstanding and a stumbling block to preliminary negotiations for the conclusion of the Western Pact and other international agreements for the appeasement of the European situation. They could easily be the cause of serious upheavals.—Transoceanic News Service.

BRITISH CAMEROONS MANDATE

London, Oct. 31.

The military coup in Baghdad has compelled the Government to resign, and has made way for a new Government under the former Minister of the Interior, Hikmat Sulaiman. Kurd, the leader of Beg Sidki is said to have been the instigator of the coup, which began on Thursday with military planes flying over Baghdad dropping leaflets demanding the Cabinet's resignation.

Two planes later returned and dropped bombs some of which struck the Administration Building. The Government thereupon resigned.—Transoceanic News Service.

NEW NAVAL STAFF OFFICER

Having seen war service, been a submarine officer, played a part in the British Fleet movements during the recent Italo-Abyssinian crisis, and served previously on the China Station, Lieutenant-Commander A. S. D. Ryder has arrived in Shanghai from England to take up his post as Naval Staff Officer in place of Lieutenant-Commander W. E. Warner, Lieut.-Cmdr. Ryder joined the British Navy during the Great War, in 1915, and served as a midshipman on H.M.S. Centurion, now a fleet target ship. Promoted Sub-Lieutenant, he spent the remainder of his war service on patrol duty in the English Channel.

Lieut.-Cmdr. Ryder comes of an old English family, of which the Earl of Harrowby, his uncle, is the present head. Lord Montagu of Beaulieu is his second cousin.

POST REVIVED AFTER 134 YEARS FOR MAN OF 94

The King on October 16 approved the creation of the office of Chief Royal Engineer of the Corps of Royal Engineers, which was abolished in 1802, and of the appointment of General Sir Bindon Blood, Colonel Commandant, Royal Engineers, to the post, states "The Daily Mail."

This appointment restores to the Royal Engineers an old military appointment, originally styled "Chief Engineer of the Kingdom," which existed from the Restoration down to its abolition in 1802.

The holder of the appointment is titular head of the Corps and thus speaks with authority on questions of regimental importance, as does the Master Gunner, St. James's Park, in the case of the Royal Artillery.

General Sir Bindon Blood, who is ninety-four, was knighted forty years ago.

"SPEED"

In this mechanical age there is natural interest in anything that has to do with the glamour and mystery of events that occur behind the scenes in the great industries. This interest attains its highest pitch when it concerns the lives of the dare-devil men who test cars and planes before they leave the factories.

All of which probably accounts for the enthusiasm with which an audience at the Majestic Theatre last night, greeted Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's appropriately titled picture, "Speed."

Lucien Hubbard, the producer, with Edwin L. Marin directing, has caught the charged atmosphere of a vast automobile concern at a time when its product is facing a revolutionary change that may either make or break the company.

The cast presents James Stewart, Wendy Barrie, Una Merkel, Weldon Heyburn, Ted Healy, Ralph Morgan and Patricia Wilder.

Wendy Barrie

Wendy Barrie, playing the role of an executive's daughter working in the plant incognito, gives one of the most charming characterizations of her career.

CENSORSHIP OF FILMS

Sane Statement Of Official Policy

Recently, Lord Tyrrell of Avon, the film censor, delivered a speech to a representative gathering of film exhibitors, says "Film Weekly."

It was the first time that the new censor and the exhibitors had got together since the death of Lord Tyrrell's predecessor, Edward Shortt, K.C.

Lord Tyrrell's speech was an interesting, encouraging, essentially sane statement of official policy. During the year 1935-36 the board gave "U" certificates to 1,750 films, "A" certificates to 350. That represented a percentage of 83 "U"s to 17 "A"s—a state of affairs which pleased Lord Tyrrell a lot.

Actually, however, many of these films were short subjects. Of the feature films, 388 got Universal certificates and 318 Adult ones.

The "horrific" films which won themselves a prominent part in last year's report are dismissed lightly in this one.

They have died out, says Lord Tyrrell. Partly because local authorities have frowned on them—more importantly because filmgoers haven't shown much interest in them.

That is a point which Carl Laemmle, Junior, might well consider before he starts producing them again.

The two main issues worrying the censor at the moment are the increase in propaganda (both political and religious) in films, and, queerly enough, the number of hospital scenes that have been cropping up.

Propaganda of any kind he is determined to stamp out—though he points out that most of the protests about propaganda in films are made by people who never go to the cinemas, anyhow.

He considers the hospital scenes (which he says are "unwholesome and do not cater for that relaxation which the majority of audiences desire") are fading away like all other "cycles."

The censorship board's pet scheme—getting film producers to submit scenarios before the picture is put into production—is coming along nicely.

The board has even taken a peek at foreign-made films which English producers are proposing to remake in Anglicised versions.

Lord Tyrrell emerges from this speech as a very rational, level-headed man—very well equipped for the job he has to perform.

"UNDER TWO FLAGS"

Four great stars, a cast of ten thousand, and a story that flames with the intensity of Sahara's burning sands, bring one of the mightiest spectacle-dreams of motion picture history to the screen in 20th Century's "Under Two Flags" now at the King's and Alhambra Theatres.

Topping the star-studded story of flaming love and smoldering rebellion are Ronald Colman, Claudette Colbert, Victor McLaglen and Rosalind Russell, who lead a supporting cast of forty character stars and numberless extras.

The setting of the story is a sun-baked post of empire on the edge of the Sahara. McLaglen is the hard-bitten commander of a battalion of Legionnaires and his outstanding soldier is Ronald Colman.

The supporting cast is filled with such superlative performers as Gregory Ratoff, Nigel Bruce, C. Henry Gordon, Herbert Mundin and J. Edward Bromberg, star of the New York stage making his film debut. Personally produced by Darryl F. Zanuck, "Under Two Flags" was directed by Frank Lloyd.

"THE GOLDEN ARROW"

"The Golden Arrow" a comedy by the noted English dramatist, Michael Arlen opened yesterday at the Queen's Theatre with Bette Davis in the stellar role.

The picture deals with love's young dream in high society and is set in a lavish background of luxurious yachts, richly appointed resort hotels and other playgrounds of millionaires. Costumes and sets are all on a grand scale, befitting the type of picture.

The story is woven about the rivalry of two beautiful girls for love and social prestige. One is a newly rich girl from a small town, whose father has made a fortune in oil, and who survives in vain to

PARIS-LONDON IN 11 HOURS

By New Channel
Train Ferry

Kentish villagers stared and gaped recently as a long train painted vivid blue and bearing the golden lettering of the Compagnie Internationale des Wagons Lits et Express Europeans thundered through the sleepy English countryside, states the "Daily Mail."

At half-past eleven the previous night we had boarded this new luxury express at the Gare du Nord, Paris, and been shown to our ultra-smart blue and silver sleeping compartments, writes a special correspondent.

For many of us our next consciousness feeling was one of pleasure at the sight of the neat English fields sweeping past.

Others were not so lucky. At about three in the morning I could hear the cries of Dunkirk porters and a curious clang as metal met metal beneath a dockyard roof.

At that moment, I knew, we were being drawn aboard the unique Channel steamer Hampton Ferry.

Soon the steady beat of a train at speed had given way to the more soothing motion of a boat at sea.

As we docked at Dover I started dressing. Before I had finished Dover had been left.

There is no doubt that this Channel train ferry system will catch on. Already every berth for the next fortnight has been booked.

The service opens for the general public soon. Passengers en-training at Victoria at 10 p.m. will arrive in Paris at 3.55 a.m. the next.

holist herself upon a completely different social world. The other is the supposed heir to the Appleby Cream millions, who is merely used in an advertising scheme. But she, unlike her rival is a simple American girl of breeding who hates the shams and insincerity of society and longs for real love.

This she finds in a bashful young reporter, who will have none of her because he hates society and its snobbery. However, she induces him to marry her to help her escape the importunities of the host of princes, foreign nobles and other fortune hunters.

But it is not until the amazing and hilarious climax that the two escape from a series of misunderstandings and straighten out the mesh of love entanglements in which they have become involved.

SUMMONS"Marriage Game Of Mutual Give
And Take"JUDGMENT IN KOWLOON CASE

The summons for maintenance brought by Leung Pui Wa against her husband Li Wah Hon was concluded at the Kowloon Magistracy on Saturday before Mr. E. Hims-worth when judgment was delivered.

His Worship ordered Li Wah Hon to pay his wife $15 per month and, as regards costs, $25 each month beginning from November 2, for four months.

Mr. M. A. da Silva appeared for the complainant and Mr. Peter H. Sin for the defence.

THE JUDGMENT
Delivering judgment, his Worship said in part:—
In this case I am called upon to consider two points, first desertion and secondly wilful neglect to maintain.

As to what constitutes desertion for the purposes of this ordinance has received a lot of judicial attention and I regard the following essentials as necessary in law to show desertion. First, the desertion must follow immediately upon a state of cohabitation; second, the husband must wilfully desert his wife; and third, that a bona fide offer of the husband to return to his wife is an answer to a summons for desertion.

The first point has been concisely stated by Lord Penzance in Fitzgerald v. Fitzgerald (1869 L.R. 1 P. and M 694) where he states "No one can desert who does not actively and wilfully bring to an end an existing state of cohabitation." In the case before us it is not doubted that a pre-existing state of cohabitation has been brought to an end. The case centers more round the second point.

To constitute desertion on the part of the husband it is not necessary that he should have left his wife; there will be desertion if the husband by his conduct compels his wife to leave his house. The principle which underlies the cases on this point is the intention of the husband to break off matrimonial relations. Moreover, where a husband has caused his wife to leave him by reason of his conduct, the desertion will not be put an end to by the husband requesting his wife to return, if she refuses and has reasonable grounds for doing so.

WIFE LEFT HUSBAND

I have stated the law on this subject at some length because in this case it would appear at first sight that the wife left the husband when on the 13th October, 1935 she left her husband's house for the purposes of attending the wedding of her sister in the country. In so doing can it be held that she intended to break permanently an existing state of cohabitation? On the basis of the evidence I have heard I am satisfied that it does not. I find it difficult not to believe the evidence of the defendant on this point. That a wife should be able to pack all her luggage, which must have taken some time, and leave a household which comprised of not less than ten persons without some one person knowing of it, appears incredible to me. Again assuming that the husband did make some enquiries as to his wife after she had gone, such enquiries appear to have been of a cursory character and to have been confined to the few days following her departure. Once he learned of her return to the colony he states he reported the matter to the Mong Kok Police Station, but there is no evidence that from that date, i.e. 29th October, 1935, that he ever tried to make contact with his wife again, although his solicitor stated on the 28th of August 1936 that he had been looking for her "ever since she left him." To hold that one visit to the country amounted to desertion on the part of the wife would be to assert that a wife must never leave the home without the permission of her husband. I think that the wife's story supported by that of her mother and other witnesses that she attempted to return to her husband's house is a true version of the facts and that the husband's household turned her away from the door.

CONDUCT OF DEFENDANT

The question therefore is—Does the conduct of the defendant in this case amount to an intention on the part of the defendant to break off matrimonial relations? I think it does. It seems to me to be futile to argue that when the

LORRY DRIVER
CHARGEDHon. Cdr. Hole As Complainant

Pleading not guilty to both charges, Lal Min, lorry driver, appeared before Mr. W. Schofield at the Central Magistracy on Saturday accused of driving a lorry without due care and caution in Stubbs Road on October 24, and failing to pay attention to the traffic signal.

Sergt. Hill prosecuted while the complainant was the Hon. Commander G.F. Hole, R.N. (retired).

Sergt. Hill said that on Oct. 24, Commander Hole was driving his car along Magazine Gap, the red light was against him and in a short while the green light shone in his favour. The red light was then against the defendant who took no notice of the signal and shot across the road. If Commander Hole had not pulled up in time, as he did, there would probably have been a fatality.

The case was remanded until November 5 at 11.30 a.m.

RECEIVING CHARGE

Fong Kam Ho, 18d, motor car cleaner, appeared before Mr. K. Keen at the Central Magistracy on Saturday charged with receiving a bicycle knowing it to be stolen.

Det. Sergt. Cashman said that on September 2 the complainant, Lung Tin, went to Central Market, and before entering the premises he left his bicycle outside. When he came out he found the machine was missing.

On information, the defendant was arrested and the bicycle was recovered. The defendant bought the machine for $3 and had it repainted. The value of the bicycle was $25.

Defendant was bound over.

plaintiff attempted to regain admittance to her husband's house that the door was held against her by other members of the household. Even if the defendant was not actually present at this time, he must have known of the incident, but instead of making restitution for his mother's actions he deliberately chose to avoid his wife. On the 23rd of October 1935 when plaintiff sought him out at his office, defendant made known his intention that he did not wish to have any further dealings with his wife. I therefore hold that defendant intended to bring the existing state of cohabitation to an end, and made known that intention to complainant on October 23rd 1935.

BONA FIDE OFFER?

There remains a third point, namely that a bona fide offer by a husband to return to his wife is an answer to a summons for desertion. There is some evidence of such an offer in this case but is it bona fide? I am of the opinion that such an offer to be bona fide must be reasonable—that is, it must be couched in such terms that a wife can accept it with reasonable confidence, that normal marital relations can be continued. In this case plaintiff is asked to go back to her husband's home and live with her mother in law, who is alleged to have made her previous married life unhappy and to have been responsible for the estrangement of husband and wife.

MUTUAL GIVE AND TAKE

A man is, I think, entitled in a measure to state the terms on which he and his wife shall make their homes together, but the terms must be reasonable. Marriage is a game of mutual give and take; the reconciliation of two human natures to effect a practical modus vivendi. This involves demands and counter demands, for we cannot expect two human beings living in close contact with one another to be agreed on all questions which arise in married life. The final question therefore is "Was defendant's insistence that plaintiff should live in his mother's house a reasonable request?" In this case I do not think it was. No man has a right to ask his wife to share her home with his relations, except in exceptional circumstances, which I think are lacking in this case. He knew his wife was estranged from his mother, and yet insisted on the former living under the same roof as the latter.

A wife can expect a home when she is married; she is not entitled to expect that she will be burdened with obnoxious relations. I hold therefore that in this case the offer of the husband to take back his wife cannot be considered a bona fide offer and that the plaintiff's case must succeed.

Market

Appearing before Mr. K. Keen at the Central Magistracy on Saturday Lal Hi, 50, unemployed, was charged with loitering with intent to commit a felony in Des Voeux Road near Aberdeen Street on September 30.

Det. Sergt. A.F. Cochrane said that about 2 a.m. on Friday P.C.B. 427 was on duty near the Central Market when he saw the defendant walking to and fro. When the constable went up to him the defendant ran away. The constable gave chase and caught him in Jubilee Street. When asked what he was doing the defendant said that he was waiting for a friend who promised him work. The friend failing to appear the constable took the defendant along to the station.

The defendant and a Chinese detective later on went to find the friend who told the police that he did not promise the defendant anything and denied knowing him. The defendant was bound over.

CAUGHT BY COOLIE

Ip Wai, 28, unemployed, was brought before Mr. K. Keen at the Central Magistracy on Saturday for the larceny of a handbag from Chan Mo Ching, teacher, of the Ying Wah Girls' College.

Sub-Inspector Kirby stated that about 4.30 p.m. on Friday, the complainant was walking in Caine Road near the Police Married Quarters, when the defendant approached her and snatched her bag from under her arm. The defendant ran down Caine Lane, but a Sanitary Department coolie, who heard the shouting, pursued the defendant and arrested him with the bag still in his possession. The coolie handed the defendant over to a constable who arrived on the scene.

The defendant injured his toes when he fell during the chase. The defendant had one previous conviction and was discharged from gaol 48 hours for medical examination. The defendant was remanded for only five days ago.

COLONY POOR HELPED

Kowloon Fete A Success

BISHOP VALTORTA OFFICIATES

A successful open-air bazaar was held by the St. Vincent de Paul Society in aid of the poor of Hong Kong, at Chatham Road yesterday, which was attended by a continuous crowd until the end. Visitors began to arrive long before the bazaar was officially opened by the Rt. Rev. Bishop Valtorta, Vicar Apostolic of Hong Kong.

BISHOP'S SPEECH

In his speech Bishop Valtorta said:—

One of the best expressions of the charitable spirit which exists in our Colony is to be found in the existence and the work of the St. Vincent de Paul Society and in the support which it has always received from the public. The Society of St. Vincent de Paul represents seventy-three years of service to the poor of Hong Kong and hundreds of thousands of dollars spent to the best advantage of the poor: it represents direct contact with the poor by numberless visits paid to them month after month by the brothers of the Society, to console, encourage and comfort them—which is the best kind of alms—and to verify their condition, so that every dollar which is entrusted to the Society may be expended in genuine work of relief. It represents help of every kind: regular relief for those who have become unable to provide for themselves, immediate assistance for those faced with sudden need, education for children whose parents are impoverished, a helping hand to those who have known comfort and are filled with shame at their unexpected poverty. It is all this that the St. Vincent de Paul Society represents in the eyes of the public who know its work.

It is well that it is here to extend its benefits to the Colony, for Hong Kong is sadly in need of such help. With the exception of some hospitals and orphanages, we have practically no social institutions for the one hundred and one needs that are to be found in every large city. There is no succor for the hundreds of lepers that live, uncared for and unwanted, in our midst; there is practically nothing done for those who totter through our streets decrepit with age and infirmity; there is little assistance for the blind, both young and old, that we see daily groping their way through the city. Yet rich are not wanting in Hong Kong. They could do much more, and if it is within their power why should they not do it? Our time, our wealth, our personal abilities, and our very bodies have not been given us by God to use and misuse them just as we fancy, but to serve Him in the person of our fellow-men, and especially in the person of the poor. God will demand an account of these gifts, and it is on their right use that the welfare of nations, and of society, hangs.

Social upheavals would not take place if those who had wealth and power used them to put into actual practice the spirit of poverty. It is not necessary to have great wealth or great power in order to come under the obligation of helping our fellow-men by their use—it is the Christian and the social duty of all to help to the best of their ability. A chance is given to you of fulfilling this obligation, and of going further by making a sacrifice for those in need, by helping the work of the St. Vincent de Paul Society. You are doing that to-day, may your example stimulate many others to do the same!

There was everything to induce the visitor to help the cause of charity and the stalls were crowded. Shooting galleries, dolls' stalls, archery gallery, and several raffles counters were manned by volunteer workers who were kept busy attending to the entertainment of every visitor.

Among those who attended the opening were Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Macfadyen, Mr. Q. A. A. Macfadyen, Mr. J. Noronha, Fr. Rossi, Bro. Almar, Bro. Stephens, Fr. Byrne, Mr. F. A. Osmund, Mr. C. Allay, Mr. A. Alves, Fr. Mantrini, Fr. Nova and Fr. Ryan.

STALLS

Stalls at the bazaar were provided by the following:—Young Ladies of the "Little Flower" Club;

DANCING DISPLAY

VIOLET CAPELL AND HER PUPILS

The stage is set for 13th annual dancing display by Violet Capell and her pupils which will be held at the King's Theatre to-morrow afternoon.

The full dress rehearsal held yesterday morning gave promise of an excellent show and the pupils displayed much talent.

There are no fewer than 18 items on the programme including ensembles, pas-de-deux, solos, group numbers and trio ballet.

The leading players are the Misses Peggy Stringer, Margaret Munro, Hazel Merriman, Stella Ho, Helen Ho, Sheila Cooper, Isabel Durran, Mona Shand, and Zena Marshall.

In the finale, entitled "Rainbow," embracing pink, blue, lemon, mauve, green and yellow, Miss Violet Capell herself appears and executes a pleasing solo.

The entertainment is given under the distinguished patronage of His Excellency the Governor and Lady Caldecott and part of the proceeds will be donated to the London Hospital, and the Hong Kong Benevolent Society.

POPPY DAY FUND

Of all War Memorials perhaps one of the finest examples has been and is still that of the education of ex-officers' children, as an investment combining permanence with utility, and it has been brought home to the Committee that their responsibility is by no means ended as soon as a boy or girl leaves school. It is then that it is essential that everything possible be done to enable these children not only to qualify for employment, but to find employment, and to maintain themselves during the period that their earning capacity is still small; and, in due course, to help their parents in their old age and sickness. It is not difficult for a boy or girl to find employment of a sort as soon as they leave school, but the wage or salary is then so small that the parents have to continue to support them, and in consequence they are, if anything, worse off than they were when the children were at school and being helped by the Department with school fees, the object of which has been to ensure that the war children themselves do not suffer because of their fathers' service, and to bring them up as good citizens. The first object is now well on its way to final achievement, and the future of the Branch in this connection lies more in the training and placing of the children the Association has helped to educate, and in making them wage earners. During the year 1,121 children were assisted with school fees at a cost of $24,478. The expenditure on general assistance was $5,775.

WORK FOR STREET SLEEPERS

Third Annual Report Of Society

DEFINITE NEED PROVIDED

In reviewing this our third year's work we feel that we have every reason to be thankful for the way in which our work has grown, and we believe that our Shelters are providing a definite need in the life of the poorer class of people in Hong Kong.

In addition to the Shelters at West Point and Po Yan Street, we were able through the generosity of Mr. Wong In Tung J. P. to open a third Shelter in Yaumati at the corner of Nathan Road and Changsha Street—Mr. Wong placed at our disposal, rent free, an old Knitting Factory which served our purpose admirably.

We are very grateful indeed that the former St. Peter's Church West Point, is still available and the work there has been carried on very satisfactorily on the same lines as in previous years.

The premises at Po Yan Street which we rented from the Tung Wah Hospital last winter were not available this year, but we were fortunate in being able to rent part of the premises of the Tung Wah Hospital in Po Yan Street at the top of the steps. We were afraid that the situation and the steps might deter the old men from using the Shelter, but apparently this was not the case. This Shelter was opened on December 4, 1935, with accommodation for 158.

The third Shelter at Yaumati was opened on January 4, 1936 with accommodation for 100 but it was later found that this was insufficient so another 50 bunks were added making total accommodation for 150 and on very cold nights even with this addition a number had to be turned away. At the beginning, however, we were doubtful as to the need of a Shelter in this district as so few people came, but by going round the streets and telling the street sleepers of our Shelter, we soon realized that the lack of "patronage" was entirely due to ignorance of the existence of such a Shelter and by January 26 we had a "full house," and our doubts were soon dispelled. The layout of the premises which were formerly an old Knitting Factory, made an ideal Shelter from every point of view and there was no congestion of any kind.

In connection with the Yaumati shelter we would like to express our gratitude to the Kowloon Residents' Association for their interest and support and we were very glad to welcome their two representatives Mr. E. Korn Mr. F. C. Mow Fung to our Committee. Hot meals were provided at the three Shelters on Xmas night, Chinese New Year and the night before closing, which were very much appreciated.

The Society is much indebted to Mr. Grenham and Mr. A. Cheung for the way in which the Po Yan and Yaumati Shelters were fitted up. This does not sound a very big job, but actually there were numerous things to be considered such as laying on of water, fixing boilers for hot water, washing accommodation, cloak room and sanitary arrangements, lighting, medical room, etc. etc., and all these needed a good deal of time and thought.

STATISTICS

At the West Point Shelter the total number of sleepers from December 1, 1935 to April 18, 1936 was 17,824 and 246 men used the Shelter.

At the Po Yan Shelter the total number of sleepers from December 4, 1935 to April 18, 1936 was 21,000 and 299 men used the Shelter.

At the Yaumati Shelter the total number of sleepers from January 4, 1936 to April 18, 1936 was 12,857 and 128 men used the Shelter.

The total number of registrations for the three Shelters was 61,637 and the total number of men who used the Shelters was 671 men.

MEDICAL

One of the outstanding features of our work this year has been the treatment of opium addicts by injections and in many cases the treatment has been very successful. In this connection we are deeply grateful to Dr. Arthur Woo, Dr. F. I. Tsung, Dr. K. Y. Lai Dr. C. A. da Rosa, Dr. Ip Tol Ching and others. We are also greatly indebted to the St. John's Ambulance Brigade for vaccinating the

DEAD HONOURED

Local Catholics To Visit Cemetery

MOVING CEREMONY

To-day is the day on which Catholics all over the world honour the dead.

In Hong Kong the ceremonies in the afternoon at Happy Valley, in the Catholic Cemetery, always attract a huge concourse of people. It is a very moving ceremony, and its effect is intensified by the fact that a large proportion of those present have near relations buried in the cemetery.

Catholic ceremonies in connection with the dead are never mere "memorial services," for the dead are remembered not as beings whose lives are ended but as living a more real life beyond the grave and perhaps in need of prayers.

The Catholic doctrine of Purgatory—the state in which are those who are saved from hell but are not yet fit to be received into heaven—is one that, after being rejected by Luther and his followers is now accepted by many non-Catholic Christians, who speak of it as the "Middle State."

imates and also for providing medical volunteers for the Shelters.

The medical side of our work is a very important one and it would not be possible without the help of numerous Doctors and Nurses and others who give up their valuable time to take duty at the Shelters and to all these ladies and gentlemen we would like to express our sincere thanks.

We would again like to express our grateful thanks to the Tung Wah Hospital and Kwong Wah Hospital for their assistance.

EVANGELISTIC

The Reverend Lee Kau Yan was again in charge of the spiritual side of our work and regular meetings were held at all the Shelters. We would like to take this opportunity of thanking all those who so kindly helped in taking the meetings.

REPATRIATION AND EMPLOYMENT

There have been several instances in which volunteers have been able to help in finding work for some of the men and in repatriating strangers to the Colony by putting them in touch with the right people.

VOLUNTEER HELPERS

During the 1935-6 Season duty at the Shelters was undertaken by organizations which promised a full rota of volunteers for a certain night of the week. It was decided that this would lead to greater efficiency and reduce the secretarial work. Certain nights were to be kept for independent volunteers unconnected with any organization, who would be notified by post, as in previous years.

Organizations which took duty at St. Peter's and the Po Yan Shelters in Hong Kong were:—

St. Stephen's Church, English Methodist Church, Deep Sea Scouts, 12th H.K. Scouts, Toc H, Hong Kong University Christian Association, St. Mary's Church, 1st Sea Scouts, 10th H.K. Scouts, 7th King's College Scouts, Y's Mens Club.

Organizations which took duty at the Kowloon Shelter were:—

All Saints' Church, Union Church, Munsang College, 1st Kowloon Rovers (St. Andrews), St. Andrew's Club, Chinese Y.M.C.A., Diocesan Boys' School.

At St. Peter's and the Po Yan Shelters there were 12 independent volunteers. At Kowloon every night was taken by an organization.

Some organizations supplied a supervisor for their night, but in many cases there was an independent volunteer, not connected with the organization. Of these there were 10 in Hong Kong and 3 in Kowloon.

The medical attendant also was sometimes a member of the organization on duty and at others an independent volunteer. In Hong Kong St. John's Ambulance undertook many nights, Dr. Woo's team one night, and there were 3 independent medical volunteers. In Kowloon there were 4 independent medical volunteers.

Thus the total of independent volunteer workers was over 30, in addition to the 20 organizations, to all of whom the committee is very grateful. With the opening of a third Shelter the difficulty of running the work entirely with independent volunteers would have been very largely increased, and the introduction of organizations

CHARMING CATHEDRAL WEDDING

Popular Couple United

BRAUDE-DEACON

A pretty wedding of considerable local interest was solemnized at St. John's Cathedral on Saturday when Miss Irene Maude Deacon, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Deacon, became the bride of Mr. Arthur N. Braude, A. E. (E. E.), A.M.A.I.E.E., the eldest son of the Rev. A. St. Claire-Braude, and Mrs. Harding.

The Rev. H.W. Baines officiated. Both bride and bridegroom are popular members of the Colony's younger set. Mr. Braude, who was educated at George Heriot's, Edinburgh, is Maintenance Engineer at the Hong Kong Telephone Company Ltd. He is a very keen volunteer, holding the rank of 2nd Lieutenant and is O.C. Machine Gun Battalion, Signals Section, who provided a motor-cycle escort for the bride from her home to the Cathedral.

and after the church ceremony, for the happy couple to the Hong Kong Hotel, where the reception was held.

The bride looked charming as she entered the church on the arm of her father, by whom she was given away. She wore a glistening gown of silver brocade angel skin cut on Renaissance lines, a copy of a Jean Larvin model veil embroidered with silver, and her head-dress was a twisted rope of pearls finished with orange blossom. She carried a bouquet of arm lilies specially sent from Manila, and Scotch heather which arrived by air mail.

The bride was attended by the Misses Kathleen Glover, Edith Hopkins and Janie Weller, as bridesmaids, who wore gold lame gowns with green taffeta underskirts and bows. They wore gold flower circlets on the head, and carried bouquets of pastel shaded African daisies tied with gold ribbons.

The bride's mother wore a bottle green chiffon velvet gown, cut on the latest tunic lines, with hat, shoes and bag to match. Mrs. Deacon carried a bouquet of orchids which had been specially sent from Manila.

Mr. T. P. Sanderson discharged the duties of best man, while Messrs. H. Cameron Watson, A. Drummond and J. Forbes were the groomsmen. Over 250 guests attended the reception.

The Scottish Psalm "Old Dundee" and the hymn "O Perfect Love" were sung at the Church ceremony.

The honeymoon is being spent in Shanghai and Hangchow, the bride's going away dress being a grey two-piece suit trimmed with scarlet, with a grey coat trimmed with astrakhan to match. She wore a scarlet hat and carried a bag of the same colour.

AUTOGRAPH HUNTING

It was Dr. Johnson's contention that a man is not on earth in a lapidary inscription, and it is possible that other occasions can be found when the tightest clasp of the strictest truth is not altogether necessary.

Perhaps Lord Baden-Powell found one recently when he was seeking to disembarass himself from the attentions of a small boy autograph-hunter.

"I only give my autograph to little girls," said the Chief Scout, with a smile. "Men do not need autographs."

Except as a discouragement to the too-persistent hunter after them, that seems a very hard saying. Men may not need autographs in the fullest sense of the term (except, of course, on cheques and legal documents), but it is undoubtedly true that some of them have pursued those exhibits with the greatest enthusiasm and persistence.

If we recall such performances as that of Mr. Alfred Morrison (who in the second half of the last century accumulated a collection whose very catalogue ran to six volumes), or of the Dr. Emmett whose anti-like industry achieved the splendid mass of American autographs which now reposes in the New York Public Library, it becomes a little difficult to pretend that there is an atmosphere of effeminacy about the pursuit of eminent signatures.

Moreover, the passion is quite an old one; it began as far back as the sixteenth century, when

TO THE CAPE IN
4½ DAYSRoute To Be Changed
For New Flying Boats

ALONG EAST COAST

The time taken to fly from England to Cape Town by the regular service will eventually cut from 10½ days to 4½ days when the new Empire flying boats are ready, states the "Daily Telegraph."

There will be a change in the route when these machines are put into service.

Instead of continuing overland from Kisumu to Johannesburg via Nairobi, they will fly south-east to the coast and on to Durban, which will be the terminus for the flying-boats.

These new machines have four engines. The cruising speed is more than 150 m.p.h.

When the whole fleet is in service there will be a steady improvement, and eventually the journey to India will take only 2½ days, to Singapore 4½ days, to Australia 6 days.

Radio and meteorological stations along the East Coast of Africa have been organised already, and ground and sea organisation is rapidly being prepared.

The first and third of the new flying boats are intended for the Mediterranean stage of the routes between England and Africa and India. The second is equipped for long-range work. A later boat will be used for the Bermuda-New York experiment. From now on completed boats will be delivered in quick succession.

FREE SEATS FOR
CORONATIONGift To West End
Shop Assistants

Although the majority of the leading stores in Oxford-street and Regent-street will have accommodation available for the general public to watch the Coronation procession, many of them are making no special plans, and will allow their staffs the exclusive use of the window space.

"The trouble of clearing the windows and preparing the store for an invasion by large numbers of people is more than we can be recompensed for," the manager of one shop stated recently to a representative of The Daily Telegraph. "So that we have decided to let the staff have the sole use of our windows."

Where it has been decided to let seats regular customers and shareholders will be given first choice.

Prices vary from half a guinea to 25 guineas for single seats, and from 20 guineas to 100 guineas for boxes and rooms. The majority of the seats, however, will be sold at from three to ten guineas.

A big store in Piccadilly, having circularised its 60,000 customers, held a ballot to allocate the 500 seats available among 1,400 applicants. The prices ranged from one guinea to 12 guineas for individual seats.

There were 120 applications for a box seating nine people at 100 guineas, and other boxes sold at 30 and 40 guineas.

Estate agents are handling most of the sites. The seats are then disposed of by recognised ticket agents.

One firm of estate agents has already dealt with £10,000 worth of wholesale window space. This actually represents some £20,000 worth of retail seat tickets.

some people at universities began to keep "alba amicorum," or little pocket-books of personal signatures, which were obviously the forerunners of the "autograph albums" of yesterday and to-day.

Some of those "alba" are now at the British Museum, and in one of them a contemporary had secured the signature of John Milton—possibly a bigger prize than the collector of that day realised when he came forward with his little book to solicit it. Bearing facts and history of that sort in mind, we can hardly write off autograph-hunting as a pastime that is to be restricted to little schoolgirls.

THREE MINISTERS BANISHED FROM IRAQ

Military Coup Sequel

Cabinet Overthrown

("Hong Kong Daily Press" Special)

London, October 31.

Following the military coup at Iraq, an official decree has been published in Baghdad banishing the former Premier, Yassin Pasha, former Foreign Minister, Nuri, as well as the Minister of Interior in the last Cabinet, Rashid Ali. These banishments have been enacted in the interests of public security, and the three ex-ministers, the announcement adds, have gone to Syria.

A further decree issued by King Ghazi on Saturday evening dissolves Parliament and provides for new elections.

The War Ministry in the Cabinet which has just been overthrown, General Desafar Pasha el Askari, was killed on Friday, says a message from Baghdad, by revolver shots from a political opponent.

NO CO-OPERATION

Baghdad, Oct. 31.
It is officially announced that ex-ministers Yassin Pasha, Rashid Ali and Nuri Said left Iraq "in the public interest." It is believed they have gone to Syria.

An official decree has been issued dissolving parliament and ordering a general election.

A decree signed by King Ghazi declares that co-operation is essential between the executive and legislature to enable the Cabinet to carry out the contemplated reforms. The Cabinet considers that such co-operation does not exist between it and the present legislature. The dissolution of the present Chamber of Deputies and a general election is therefore ordered.—Reuters.

CONSCRIPTION ISSUE

Jerusalem, Oct. 31.
The coup d'état is believed in well-informed circles in Jerusalem to be due to divergences over the enforcement of military conscription upon the nomad tribes of the state, since Sidky Bey wanted to stamp out the revolt of the Shia tribes in the Middle Euphrates country and demanded an army capable of reinforcement, for which conscription was necessary. The Government, however, adopted a more moderate attitude and did not press the issue of conscription.

It is anticipated that the new Cal'net will enforce general conscription. If so, there is likely to be trouble as all the tribes are opposed to it.

Sidky Bey is known to favour ruthless methods. It is believed that trouble, if it develops, will divert attention from Palestine and the Pan-Arab issue. On the other hand, if the Iraqi tribes revolt there is a likelihood that it will lead to general unrest in the Middle East.—Reuters.

HOTEL-KEEPERS PLEDGE

Fair Prices For Coronation

Courtesy, comfort, and fair prices. These will be the watchwords of the "nation's hosts"—as the late Lord Balfour called hotel-keepers—during the Coronation year rush.

Mr. G. Reeves-Smith, managing director of the Savoy Hotel Company, London, said this when he presided at Llandudno recently over the conference of the Hotels and Restaurants Association of Great Britain.

"Everything in our power will be done," he said, "to receive the thousands of guests from every quarter of the globe with the maximum degree of courtesy and every possible comfort."

"I speak on behalf of our industry when I say there will be nothing but fair prices during Coronation Year."

The demand for accommodation would be very great, but their Association intended to set up with the co-operation of the transport and touring services, machinery which would ensure the fullest co-operation.

"To the limit of our capacities, and to the utmost extent of our energies, the hotel and restaurant industry will do everything possible to accommodate all visitors comfortably, and to see they are treated as good clients should be treated—reasonably and fairly."

FRENCH ART OF
19TH CENTURYFrom Ingres To Cezanne

In looking round the remarkable exhibition of Nineteenth Century French Art at the New Burlington Galleries, 5, Burlington-gardens, W., one felt as if it were a meeting of old masters and fellow students whose thoughts and their expression had been gradually clarified and matured by time, writes the "Morning Post" Art critic.

Controversy had ended, the qualities of each artist's work had been recognised, and their values assessed in the sum total of the artistic output of the "Grand Siècle."

Some of the painters are not represented at their best. Delacroix, for instance, suffers in this respect in comparison with Ingres, his arch-enemy. But the former's place is secure as the brilliant leader of the romantic movement against the classic formulas illustrated in the "Bain Turc" and the two splendid portraits, Nos 2 and 3, by his opponent.

Corot definitely holds his own with the superb figure of "Venus au Bain" (22) and his serenely beautiful landscapes. Daubigny's place as a painter is disputed, but his answer is found in the direct intensity of "Les Joueurs d'Echecs" (25), and Courbet as a landscape painter is supreme in "Le Ruisseau dans le Forêt" (29).

THE IMPRESSIONISTS

Manet brings us to the Impressionist, and his position "as maître d'école" is established by powerful achievements such as the "Portrait de M. and Mme. Auguste Manet" (32), "Le Gamain au Chien" (33), which led up to "La Broche" (37), the unrivalled example in his "œuvre" of objective observation and technical skill. Manet retains high favour with his intimate study of "Morning Thaw" (45) and "The Water Lily Pool" (47), and Sisley proves that he is much more than an imitator in the lovely "Bords de la Seine" (51) and "Scene on the River Seine" (53).

Pissarro's sincerity, far-seeing eye and sense of locality are happily represented in the large "Jardin du Louvre" (59), "La Vue de l'Ermitage, pres Pontoise" (54), and the luminous sketch of "Dulwich College" (57). The realistic prosody of Degas's art is active in the graceful figures of "Two Dancers on the Stage" (65); a more sombre note is touched in "Le Café" (67), and he compacts much joy in the brilliant "rub in" "Les Modistes" (69).

RENOIR

The paintings, at least, by Renoir are sure to be popular; the exquisite Gainsborough-like "Portrait of Mme. Choquet" (71) and "La Danse à la Campagne" (78). In the first the fair face of the woman is set in subtle nuances of the primary colours; and in the second the inter-response of sentiment and technical simplicity gives one abiding pleasure. Note the happy smile on the girl's face and the admiration of the young man for his partner. Pictorial art could not better express the joyous innocence of youth. No. 76 also is very charming, and the "Coup de Vent" (73), if somewhat unbalanced in design, is a fine landscape.

Gauguin and Cezanne have recently been shown to greater advantage; Van Gogh's "Le Père Tanguy" (103), surrounded by Japanese prints, and "The Arlesienne" (105) are penetrating

RISING HOPES
Stilts For Coronation
Procession

At the exhibition of inventions at Westminster recently Major Baden-Powell, the brother of the Chief Scout, displayed "a special set of stilts for use during Coronation processions."

It sounds almost as much of a "seasonal trade" as that followed by the man who peddled smoked glasses for observing total eclipses of the sun, though there is no doubt that both stilts and smoked glasses might be in much demand on the two occasions for which they were intended. There is, however, one important difference: anybody and without any particular preparation, whereas still-walk—and still more still-standing—involve considerable practice. Indeed, still-standing is almost impossible; the person on the stilts has to shuffle about perpetually in order to keep his balance. Perhaps the idea is that he shall lean up against other members of the tightly packed throng as the royal procession goes past. But would that be tolerated by the groundlings down below?

Indeed, would the whole idea of stilts be tolerated on such occasions? Would not those who were raised on nothing more notable than their own short legs regard the still-shuffer as stealing an unfair advantage? What would the police say; would they allow these Coronation colossi to stride the narrow world of a London thoroughfare? And suppose the stilts raised their wearers so high as to obstruct the view, of people who had paid for a window; what would happen then?

In any event some people will have to put in a good deal of preliminary practice if Major Baden-Powell's device is to be at all widely employed in London next May. So if any citizens of the sober sort, long past youth and adolescence, are shortly seen loyally staggering round the suburbs on stilts we shall know what they are up to and why they have so obviously risen in the world.

revelations of character, and there are typical works by Toulouse-Lautrec and Georges Seurat.

It should be said that the exhibition is arranged with great taste, and that its promoters, the Anglo-French Art and Travel Society, are to hold a show of British Art next year in Paris.

SIR AUSTEN'S FLEA

Sir Austen Chamberlain attacked the critics of the Exhibition of French Art of the Nineteenth Century, and appealed for a better knowledge of British Art, in a speech at a literary luncheon at Grosvenor House.

Sir Austen said that he had heard "certain muttering of discontent" about the exhibition. The critics asked, "Have we not seen enough of French art, and would it not be more profitable to have an exhibition of English rather than of foreign art?"

"I think that is a very narrow view to take of the sphere of art," he went on. "I am grateful to anyone who will introduce me to the art of another country. Would not these critics be better employed in devoting their energy to spread some knowledge of English art abroad? Is it not partly because we have failed thus to earn a reputation abroad that our living artists suffer from some lack of appreciation in their own country to-day?"

INCREASED SALARY

For Whitehall Clerks

Civil Servants who threatened a stay-in strike two months ago have secured a big increase in their maximum rates of pay.

The award of the Industrial Court which considered their case was announced recently, stated a Home paper.

It gives them nearly everything they asked for, and is the largest award in the history of Civil Service arbitration.

The award is a personal triumph for Mr. W. J. Brown, secretary of the Civil Service Clerical Association, who presented the staffs' case. He has since had a breakdown and is now recuperating.

The association claimed a maximum of £335 for the clerks concerned.

The Treasury and the departments involved claimed for a maximum of £260.

The court awarded 2950 out of 3000 people immediately affected a maximum of £320.

For the majority of the clerks affected the new award represents an increase of 25 per cent.

COST TO INCREASE YEARLY

The clerks affected are in the War Office, Air Ministry, Admiralty, Board of Trade, Bankruptcy Department, Ordnance Survey Department, and Factory Inspectors' Clerical Department at the Home Office.

With the exception of the factory inspectors' clerks, who number 49, all received the award of a maximum of £320.

Those who benefit will proceed from the old maximum to the new by annual increments.

In the first year the total amount which the Treasury will have to find will be about £100,000.

This will rise to a maximum of £500,000 which will be reached in about eight years.

The award ends a sixteen years' agitation.

THE NAVY'S EYE

Accurate Gunnery Off
Scots Coast

A feature of the intensive gunnery and torpedo practice carried out by ships of the Navy on the North Sea off the Scottish Coast has been the accurate firing of the heavy guns at long range, states the "London Bulletin."

The battle-practice target at which Nelson and Rodney fired 16 in. salvoes at 15 miles range recently was towed in, and divers on the flagship went down to inspect it.

GOOD SHOOTING

It was found that in addition to the direct hit recorded, which knocked away a considerable portion of the target, that there was also damage below the water-line as a result of other direct hits.

There was a marked difference in the appearance of the battle-ships to the "ready for action" trim.

On the decks of the Rodney, where no man could stand during the gunnery, there were later hundreds of men cleaning, and carrying out physical training exercises.

Last three days in

CHILDREN BLOWN TO PIECES

Madrid Air Raid Tragedy

Madrid, Oct. 31.
Hospitals are busy attending to the injured following yesterday's air raid.
A tragic survivor of the raid at Getafe airport of Madrid, where seventy children were blown to pieces yesterday, is a tiny baby whose mother was killed while carrying it to shelter. The baby's three little brothers who were playing in the streets were all killed.
One bomb on Madrid crashed on the roof of a seventeenth century church, killing several persons. Another fell on a creche, killing a number of women and babies.—Reuter

SPANISH COAST BOMBARDED

Insurgent Warship Driven Back

Perpignan, Oct. 31.
An insurgent warship bombarded the coast of the Gulf of Rosas, a few miles south of the French frontier. Heavy firing by shore batteries forced it to retire.
No landing was attempted, but Government troops massed in the vicinity as a precautionary measure.
Several were killed and a number wounded in the course of the bombardment which caused considerable damage.—Reuter

ATTEMPT TO LAND

Paris, Oct. 31.
An attempt by insurgent troops to effect a landing at Rosas on Friday appeared to have made a great impression on the authorities in Barcelona, according to further reports received from Catalan, the capital.

It is feared that a new attempt will be made by the insurgents to land troops at some point in the Gulf of Rosas, just south of the Franco-Spanish frontier, and extra measures of precaution are being taken to stop 200,000 men reported to have been mobilised for the defence of this section of the coast.—Transocean News Service

MODERN SCARLET PIMPERNAL

Rescuer Of Women And Children From Spain

London, Oct. 31.
A modern "Scarlet Pimpernel," who rescued at least 50 men, women and children from Spain, is reported to have been arrested by the Communists at Malaga. He is an Englishman named Grice-Hutchinson, who exploited the transportation of prisoners in a tiny 8-ton yacht, the Honey Bee, from Malaga to Gibraltar.
He became almost legendary. His method of operation was to land at dusk, make for the nearest prison and haggle with the guards, who eventually, discreetly turned their backs while the prisoners were hurried to the yacht.
Mr. Grice-Hutchinson was a lawyer at Malaga for ten years before the revolution, and many insurgent sympathisers are his personal friends. When the insurgents began bombing Malaga many of them were imprisoned and some killed as a reprisal, so Mr. Grice-Hutchinson used his influence with the authorities and managed to get passes to convey a number of friends to Gibraltar.—Reuter

U.S. SHIPPING HOLD-UP

Support For Pacific Coast Strikers

New York, Oct. 31.
An unanimous demand for a general shipping strike on the Atlantic coast in sympathy with the Pacific strikers was voted by the Seamen's Defence Committee to-day. The vote is intended to force the hand of the International Seamen's Union Executive, which is meeting to-night.

The International Seamen's Union is meeting to-night to consider the unanimous demand of the Seamen's Defence Committee for the declaration of a general strike on the Atlantic coast in sympathy with the Pacific strikers. The committee is also still demanding "sit down" movements in New York harbour on all ships attempting to leave within 24 hours.

The strike is spreading every hour, and 150 vessels are now tied up. As a result of the hold-up it is estimated that at least 20,000 west coast lumbermen will be thrown out of work if the strike continues.—Reuter

Sharp criticism was directed at M. Leon Blum and the French foreign policy by Thorez, General Secretary of the Communist Party of France, at a political demonstration in this city. "And I Welcome Their Hatred"

Fighting Speech By President Roosevelt

TWO TO ONE FAVOURITE IN WALL STREET

New York, October 31.
In his final speech at Madison Square Garden, Mr. Franklin D. Roosevelt denounced "the powerful interests striving to restore the doctrine that the Government is best which is indifferent." "Never before in all our history have these forces been so united against one candidate," he said. "They are unanimous in their hate for me and I welcome their hatred. I would like to have it said of my first administration that therein the forces of selfishness and lust for power have met their match. I like it to be said in my second that these forces have met their master."

Mr. Roosevelt did not specify whether or no he would seek to revive the National Recovery Act and the Agricultural Adjustment Act, but he replied to Governor Alfred M. Landon in general terms with a long list of New Deal objectives, namely, reduction of hours of work, raising of wages, ending of the monopoly of child labour and sweat-shops, supporting of collective bargaining, reciprocal trade among nations, etc., adding that he would continue to seek these objectives for they have only just begun to fight.

Mr. Roosevelt said that they would continue their efforts on behalf of the farmers and do all in their power to end the piling up of huge surpluses which have spelled ruinous prices for their crops. They would also encourage co-operatives on crop insurance and a stable food supply.
To-day there was war and rumour of war. They wanted none of it, but while guarding their shores they would continue to remove the causes of unrest and antagonism at home which might make our people easier victims for whom a foreign war is profitable.

He concluded with the statement that "those who stand to profit by war are not on our side in this campaign."
HYSTERICAL CHEERING
President Roosevelt's supporters stormed Madison Square Garden apparently eager to eclipse the demonstration accorded Governor Landon on Thursday. Workers and citizens of modest means predominated in the crowd which was in contrast more fashionable than the Republican audience of Governor Landon.

Mr. Roosevelt on rising to speak created a prolonged burst of hysterical cheering. The President delivered his speech in a fighting mood, rousing the crowd to a tremendous pitch of excitement.—Reuter

It was decided to continue the policy of close co-operation on lines prescribed at the outset and still closer economic and cultural relations. To this end it was intended to arrange for an exchange of students and to establish chairs for Turkish and Yugoslav languages at the universities in Yugoslavia and Turkey.

Stojadinovich had been welcomed with feelings of extreme friendship in Turkey and his visit had resulted in the countries becoming still more intimate.—Transocean News Service

KEELUNG INCIDENT

Shanghai Paper's Comment

Shanghai, Oct. 31.
The American daily paper in Shanghai, the "Evening News," in the course of a leading article on the Keelung incident says that international feeling is overwhelmingly in favour of the British case.

Referring to the statement that the Japanese authorities are amused at the affair, the journal "recommends them to enjoy the fun while they may, for Britain has a capacity for being extremely unamusing when sternly set on what she conceives to be a justified course of action."—Reuter

BRUTAL TREATMENT

An earlier cable from London stated:
"Extraordinarily brutal" is the description applied here to the treatment of three British sailors by the Japanese police at Keelung recently. The Japanese allegations that the men did not pay their bills is emphatically refuted. It is stated that an enquiry instituted by the Commander-in-Chief of the China Station, Admiral Sir Charles Little, proved undoubtedly, despite the Japanese allegations to the contrary, that the sailors paid their taxidars and were seen to do so by a Petty Officer who was not with their party.

The enquiry also established that the sailors were sober when taken to the police station, and when they emerged they were badly beaten and battered and one man had his jaw broken.

The British authorities do not object to the police exercising their proper functions in a case of disorderliness or drunkenness on the part of sailors, although it is generally known that the Navy feel a great pride in the good behaviour of their ratings when they visit foreign ports. In this particular case complaint lies against the Japanese police for the extraordinarily brutal manner in which the men were treated.

ARMS MANUFACTURE IN BRITAIN

Royal Commission Issues Report

London, Oct. 31.
The Royal Commission on the Manufacture of Arms, in an unanimous report, recommends that the most effective available means of removing the objections against private manufacture and trading would be limitation by international agreement. It considers the establishment of a universal system of State monopoly impracticable, and suggests that this should not be part of the policy of Britain. The Government should continue to encourage measures for the internal regulation and control of arms.

Other recommendations include the Government's complete responsibility for the arms industry; Government manufacturing establishments for navy and air armaments; restriction of the profits of armament firms in peace time; conscription of the industry in war time; a more positive system of licensing the export of arms; discontinuation of the practice of issuing open general licences; and complete cessation of the private export trade in surplus and second-hand arms.—Reuter's Bulletin Service

An impressive ceremony took place at Addis Ababa, according to the Rome evening papers, when the first hundred soldiers of the Italian army to settle in Abyssinia, paraded before the Viceroy, Marshal Graziani, and received his words of congratulation and encouragement before entering upon the new life.

It is announced that plans are under way for the settlement of four hundred families in the neighbourhood of Oletta about forty kilometres from Addis Ababa. The press points out that the custom of soldiers becoming farmers in conquered territory is one which dates back to Roman times and that the Roman empire was built up largely in that manner.

In bidding farewell to the departing settlers, Marshal Graziani said "In a few days I shall visit you in your new homes and see how your work is getting on and how well you are acclimatising yourselves."

LEAGUE FOOTBALL

S. C. "A" And Kowloon Chinese Draw 3-3

Ulsters Return To Form

Returning to form, the Royal Ulster Rifles defeated the East Lancashire Regiment by four goals to nil in the Senior Division of the Hong Kong Football League on Saturday afternoon. The Royal Welch Fusiliers overcame the Club while the Chinese Athletic defeated the Royal Navy by the solitary goal scored. South China "A" defeated the Recreio.

On the mainland, the Kowloon Football Club entertained the Police and won by the odd goal in three.

Playing on the Club ground yesterday, South China "A" and the Kowloon Chinese drew each side scoring three goals while at Caroline Hill, South China "B" defeated St. Joseph's 2-1.

Several Second and Third Division League matches were also decided over the week-end.

THRILLING MATCH

A very thrilling football encounter between the Kowloon Chinese and South China "A" was played yesterday at the Hong Kong F.C. ground, the result being a draw of three goals all.

Both goalkeepers Choo Siu Hang (South China) and Siu Tin Sim (Kowloon Chinese) played exceedingly well.

The scorers for South China "A" were Lai Shiu Wing and Fung King Cheung (2).

Tang Kwon Sum and Chan Wah Chi (2) scored for the Kowloon Chinese.

S. CHINA "B" WIN

South China "B" beat St. Joseph's by two goals to one at Caroline Hill yesterday.

The game was very scrappy and at times tempers were frayed. Chan Tak Fai gave the Chinese the lead in the first half.

In the second half Yuk Hon Woo netted for the Chinese with a low shot which beat Marques completely. About fifteen minutes before the final whistle the Saints scored through Costa.

RIFLES FINE DISPLAY

One of the best displays of football skill and team organization was given by the Rifles when they met the East Lancs. in a Senior League soccer encounter on the Chatham Road ground on Saturday. Functioning like a well-oiled machine, the Rifles found no difficulty to down their opponents, against whom they netted four clear goals.

Outstanding for the winners was Campbell, while Hartigan and Erwin proved themselves worthy of inclusion in the Army team next week. Miller and McGonigal were prominent in the intermediate line, while Stevens was undoubtedly the pick of the backs.

The East Lancs. were rather handicapped by the absence of Ridings and Eckersley, the former being still on the sick list since last week's Lai Wah Cup game. Their places were filled by O'Donnell, a newcomer, and Tuley, promoted from the second eleven, both of whom found their opponents too fast.

The Rifles attacked immediately on the whistle and Campbell opened the scoring a few minutes after the start. This was followed a few minutes later by another goal when Ferguson headed in a pass from Erwin. In an endeavour to stop a powerful drive from Erwin, Swain sent the ball past his own custodian for the Rifles, third goal.

Towards the end of the second half Ferguson scored again but his goal was disallowed for offside. However, a few minutes later Miller increased the score to four goals.

POLICE AGAIN UNLUCKY

An unlucky Police side failed to hold their own against Kowloon in a First Division soccer match played on the latter's ground on Saturday when they retired losers by the odd goal in three. The game was at times rather disappointing and both teams served up poor fares at not too infrequent periods.

Kowloon was fortunate in playing Minihmet in goal for it was largely due to his fine display between the posts that Kowloon was not at least two goals down before the interval. Knox, Kowloon's centre-forward, found North's "policing" too close in many ways than one and had very little scope. Green was the best in the Police forward line and he served as a stimulant to the ever eager Moss. The Police leader, his ball control and the manner in which he distributed it being sound. He found himself starved throughout.

MAMAK TOURNAMENT HOCKEY

In their Mamak Tournament fixture at Shamshui yesterday, the Nomads were held to a goalless draw by the "B" Coy. R.W.F.

The game was played at a fast pace throughout, the exchanges being keen and even. It was not until the end of the game, but to the sterling displays put up by the defence of both teams, who were on top form and had the opposite sets of forwards completely under their thumb.

The final whistle brought an end to a very entertaining game, the final score being a fair indication of the run of play.

before full time that Lai Shiu-wing increased the score.

Almost on time another goal went a-begging for the Chinese when during a penalty award, Fung King-cheung struck the upright with his shot and the ball was subsequently cleared by the Recreio defence.

INTERNATIONAL FOOTBALL

Scotland Beat Ireland

MAGNIFICENT GAME

Belfast, Oct. 31.

A large gathering of 40,000, which had to be controlled by the Police to prevent encroaching on the pitch, saw Scotland secure their 40th victory against Ireland in the Association Football series here to-day, when the Scots won a stirring encounter by 3 goals to 1 after sharing two goals at the interval.

The outstanding feature of the clash was the magnificent Irish defence in the first half, which prevented the Scots from breaking through until a few minutes from the interval.

Scotland—Dawson (Rangers); Anderson (Hearts); Ancell (Newcastle); Massie (Aston Villa); Simpson (Rangers); Brown (Rangers); Munro (Hearts); Walker (Hearts); McCulloch (Brentford); Napier (Derby) and Duncan (Derby).

Ireland—Breen (Belfast Celtic); Cook (Everton); Fulton (Belfast Celtic); McMillan (Manchester United); Jones (Hibernian); Mitchell (Chelsea); Kernaghan (Belfast Celtic); McCulloch (Manchester City); Martin (Notts Forest); Coulter (Everton) and Kelly (Derby).

Ireland won the toss. Scotland facing the sun, monopolised the play with clever attacks. The swept down the field incessantly, Duncan, McCulloch and Walker missing narrowly. They were unable to break down the stolid defence where Breen was magnificent.

Ireland broke away in the 26th minute and Kennaghan lifted the ball at the goalmouth and Dawson deflected it into the net.

Two minutes later Napier equalised with a hard low shot. Scotland continued to press in determined manner. The score at the interval was 1-1.

In the second half Scotland resumed with a dazzling movement which found the Irish defence at sea. Munro dashed in and headed in the ball off Breen's hands in the 18th minute.

Ireland rallied and the Scottish defence had a grueling time. Dawson saved three times from Martin and Anderson and kicked a shot from Kelly on the goal-line.

Fast and keen play followed. Scotland being the more aggressive. Their third goal was scored by McCulloch.

The crowd of 45,000 spectators created a ground record. The crowds climbed over the top of the stands and encroached on the touchlines.

Yeoh 28, S. Teoh 5 for 43).
University—143 (G. Hung Choy 37, H. Chin 22, C. H. Teoh 20, W. K. Way 4 for 38, E. S. Cunningham 4 for 40).

ANNUAL DINNER

Following the match, the Hong Kong Lawn Bowls Association held their annual dinner at the Kowloon Cricket Club on Saturday night, when the President, Mr. C. J. Tacchi, presided over a large and representative gathering of lawn bowlers, prizes won in the different tournaments held during the season were distributed.

Amongst those present, besides the President, were Messrs. R. Bassa, Vice-President, C. B. Hosking, Hon. Secretary, and many others.

CRAIGENGOWER'S SUCCESS

The loyal toast was proposed by the President, who afterwards made a short speech and reviewed the season's activities. He congratulated the Craigenower Cricket Club on winning the First Division shield for the third year in succession and said that this was the second time they had won the trophy outright. Only one Club had previously had that distinction and that was the Talkoo Recreation Club, who, in the early days of the League, won the trophy many years in succession.

He paid tribute to the work that the Hon. Secretary, Mr. Hosking, had put in and congratulated Mr. Hosking and his sub-committees for the smooth way in which all tournaments had been carried out.

WALTER HAMMOND BATS WELL

Australia

FAGG DISMISSED
FOR "DUCK"

Adelaide, Oct. 31.
The M.C.C., with seven wickets in hand, have established a lead of 171 runs over South Australia, as the result of the second day's play in the four-day match.

A crowd of 12,000 saw the home team resume their innings at 11 for 1 in cool but sunny weather and on a medium paced wicket. Don Bradman, despite his recent bereavement, was present in his capacity as Test selector.

The English bowling was very accurate, G. O. Allen, the skipper, bowling at his fastest for 6 for 53. The Australians' batting, however, was unimpressive and only an unexpected stand by Grimmett and Cotton, who added 73 in 82 minutes for the last wicket, saved them from complete collapse—they were 77 for 6 at lunch.

FAGG FAILS

Commencing their second innings 71 runs ahead after the tea interval, the M.C.C. lost Fagg for a "duck" but Hammond again filled the breach with 60 not out. He reached 50 in 85 minutes as the result of confident batting, which was defensive and chanceless. It will be recalled that he scored 104 in the first innings.

Worthington, who scored 28, will probably open the innings in future in view of the failures of both Fagg and Barnett.

The stitches have been taken out of R. W. V. Robins' finger and he hopes to play within a fortnight. Ames is also showing signs of improvement.

The summarised scores are as follows:
M.C.C.: 233 (Hammond 104, Verity 31; F. Ward 5 for 70, C. V. Grimmett 2 for 82) and 100 for 3 Hammond 60 not out, Fagg 0, Worthington 29.

THE SHARE MARKET

Harriman's Weekly Review

Saturday, Oct. 31.

Messrs. G. A. Harriman & Co.'s weekly share report & market review issued at noon to-day states:—

Quiet and Subdued markets have been the order this past week and the post Settlement activity anticipated last week has not yet materialised. Local stocks appear to still be affected by the political situation in North China and pending more reassuring news, buyers are timid and reluctant to add to their commitments. There is no evident weakness, but a general disinclination to deal, in a stupor.

The volume of business transacted on the Manila Stock Exchange has dwindled considerably and that market must have experienced the duldest week of many active ones, with quotations changing only very slightly throughout the period, although closing slightly lower on balance.

Here in Hong Kong rates are mostly nominal, pending more active trading. Hong Kong Electric have stood to $54, small sales having been executed at this. China Lights are either side of $14.50 for cash @ $14.80 December. Telephones (old) came to business at $29 and the New at $10.70. Trams exchanged at $11.90, but close 25 cents higher on the week at $12.25 sales. Star Ferries sold at $93 and Yamutai Ferries are now up to $25.

Dairies have small enquiries at $22.25. Cements stagnate around $11.50 and Ropes are freely offered at $1.80.

Among Cotton shares transactions are reported in Fwos at $10.70, Shanghai Cottons (old) at $78 and the New at $43. Zong Sing are $17 nominal. (Quotations in Shanghai currency).

Hong Kong Banks and Unions have been steadily appreciating for some time past, and the first named are now $1970 and Unions @ 604 with transactions reported at these rates.

Union Water Boats sold at $10.50. Wharfs at $111, and Providents (old) at between $2.17 and $2.10, closing. Hotels keep fully steady. Just prior to October Settlement exchanges were made up to $6.30, but in view of the prevailing apathetic market, shares are now obtainable at 10 cents under this.

Following upon a sharp rise in Rubber there is some local enquiry for Straths Rubbers and offers of shares are invited. Broga Rubbers were dealt in at 90 cts. (Straths) and Lumas are enquired for at $14.824.

Philippine Mining:—United States election uncertainties appear to be affecting this market, which is exceptionally quiet. Antamoks have stood alone and are very steady at $7. Atoks were dealt in between $1.15 and $1.11. Bagulos and Benguet Explorations are lower at 57 cts. and 35 cts. respectively. Big Wedge are also off a few points at 85 cts. and Consolidated Mines are unusually inactive at 94 cts middle. Demonstrations have come down to $1.66. Masbates to 85 cts. and Northern Mines to 45 cts. Paracale Gums, which are a limited (and difficult) market have declined to $1.47. Salacots were sold at 131 cts. and 131 cts. San Mauricos have also suffered and close lower at $5.75, whilst both Suyoc and United Paracales have lost ground at $1.15 and $3.45 respectively.

DUTCH NATIVE RUBBER DUTY

BERLIN SHARE
MARKET

("Hong Kong Daily Press" Special)

Berlin, Nov. 1.

The week-end saw the share market in a buoyant mood despite the fact that owing to a state holiday—reformation festival—in Saxony buying orders were correspondingly reduced so that business was quieter than for the last few days. Most of the prices were ruled higher at the opening and an upward movement was only checked by profit taking but Friday's outlook continued on receipt of favourable economic news and the announcement of the increase in state revenue during September.

There was, however, a general decline towards the close and most of the prices were dropping again. Mining chemicals and electricities were firmer, fixed interest securities market not uniform, but Reichs old holding loan were rising to 118.60. Reichs 4 1/2 per cent loan 1934 was improving 1/4 to 98 1/2.

Gold mortgage bonds were mostly firmer, advances being about 1/2 per cent. Call money 3 to 3 1/8. Young Loan dropped from 5/8 to 102 5/8. Reichsbank 1/2 lower to 191 1/2. Dye Trusts declined 5/8 to 178 1/8. Salzdorf potash 1/2 lower to 196. United Steel works weakened 1 to 126 1/2. German mineral oils declined 1/4 to 148 1/2. Siemens & Halske rose 1/4 to 208 1/2. Bemberg Rayon dropped 3/4 to 117.

The money market during the week underwent the influence of the approach of the monthly settlement. Reduction of private discount rate was from 3 to 2 and 7/8 which lessened the demand for rediscountable paper but despite this, bills of gold discount in the bank were still in lively demand.

Uncertainty prevails as to how the money market will ultimately be effected by the Four-Year plan, one view being that development will be similar to that under the first four year plan that is to say that greater liquidity will result while in other quarters exactly the opposite opinion is held, namely that all available sources of money and capital markets will be abandoned.

In the interim, unavailability of money is stimulating the loan market as shown by the rises in municipal loans and Reichs old holding loan. New issues of 72 million Reichsmarks mortgage bonds is insufficient to meet the prevailing demand of applicants as they are only receiving a fraction of the allotment desired. The share market became uncertain as many record prices were reached during the past week. The international political situation has produced a tension without, however, increasing the inclination of the public to part with its investments.

NEWFOUNDLAND

Paper Industry Booming

London, Oct. 29.

The Dominion's Secretary, Mr. Malcolm Macdonald, answered in the House of Commons, a question on Newfoundland and the work of the Commission of the Government. He said the financial improvements shown in the latter months of the last financial year had continued. Fisheries had in general been handicapped by the continuance of low prices, with the result that the number of those receiving relief had remained high. The difficulty had been greatly aggravated by unfavourable developments in some of Newfoundland's most important overseas markets, but careful attention was being given to the improvement of the marketing organization.

Paper mills on the island were working to capacity. The Commission has continued its efforts to develop agriculture and land settlement, and recent land reclamation operations had had encouraging results.

UNIVERSITY CONCERT

Entertainment For Charity

An enjoyable charity concert organised by the women undergraduates of the Hong Kong University, was held on Saturday, in the Great Hall, under the distinguished patronage of Lady Caldecott, wife of H. E. the Governor.

Miss Barbara Chu, chairman of the women undergraduates, welcomed Lady Caldecott, who was accompanied by His Excellency and Captain W. J. R. Cragg, A.D.C. and was introduced to Dr. (Miss) Clary Wong, who acted Master of Ceremonies.

Before opening the programme Miss Chu addressed the audience and said: "Your Excellency Lady Caldecott, Sir William Hornell, Ladies and Gentlemen: To-night the Hong Kong University women undergraduates club have great pleasure in presenting a Variety concert. The club was formed three years ago for the purpose of bringing the women undergraduates together to form a closer friendship amongst them, since the majority of them do not board at the Women's Hostel."

Hitherto, all our activities were confined to the members of the club only, and our functions were more or less private.

This is the first occasion on which we have ever attempted to introduce the club to the public, and we hope that our boldness will not meet with disapproval.

On behalf of the members of the club, I wish to thank Lady Caldecott for her graciousness in consenting to be our patron and His Excellency for the honour he had conferred upon us by his presence. I also wish to thank the Vice-Chancellor for allowing us to use the Hall, artists who have so kindly contributed towards to-night's entertainment and for the presence of everybody in the hall. I thank you."

Among those who attended the concert were: His Excellency the Governor and Lady Caldecott, Captain W. J. R. Cragg, Sir William Hornell, Professor and Mrs. R. Robertson, Professor and Mrs. L. Forster, Professor W. C. Nixon, Sir Althol and Lady MacGregor, the Hon. Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Simpson, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Finigan, Mrs. T. King, Misses J. and C. King, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. C. North, Lieutenant Hornell, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Craig, Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Birch, the Hon. Mr. M. K. Lo, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Martin, Mr. S. F. Balfour, Miss R. Mow Fung, and many others.

"BIRTHDAY" PLANES GIVE DISPLAY

Nanking, Oct. 31. In the absence of the principal figure in modest retirement at Loyang, the entire nation is making merry to-day in honour of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's birthday.

Fifty fighting and bombing planes gifted to the Government by the nation were dedicated at a solemn ceremony this morning. About 200,000 people watched a thrilling display by the most skilled Chinese military pilots. The unbounded enthusiasm of the populace testified that China is rapidly becoming an air-minded nation.

CHINESE PROTEST TO JAPAN

Nanking, Oct. 31. A three-point protest was handed to the Japanese Ambassador to-day by the Foreign Office. The protest is against (a) the Japanese army manoeuvres in the Peiping-Tientsin area, (b) against the alleged armed occupation by Japanese of a house in Tientsin, (c) against the wild speculations seemed to take the floor. Hong Kong seems to be full of new faces just now, as there appears to have been several changes all round. It was said saying good-bye to our friends in the Kent, as is usually the case after they have been out here for some time, but they were certainly given an enthusiastic send-off. There was such a crowd that it is quite impossible to mention half the names, but I caught sight of Mrs. Bishop looking extremely smart in black and white with one of the very latest of hats on. The Rockingham Gills were over from Stonecutters—doesn't see the Stonecutters people very much really, they seem to live in a little world of their own. Mrs. Brookshott, very pretty in black and white, looked well after her holiday, also her husband seems to have recovered completely. The Browns, back from their trip to Japan, seemed in great form having had a lovely time. The Abbotts were there, also the Rees; the Sterling Hamiltons, the Jenks and practically the rest of the Colony. Quite half the party or more seemed later to migrate to the Hong Kong Hotel which was very gay and everybody in the best of spirits all the evening.

U.S. FLEET ENTERTAINED

The U.S.S. Canopus arrived in the Colony on Friday for a stay of only a few days en route to Manila, and Captain Coltart and the Officers of the Medway were the hosts at an extremely good party on board the Medway on Friday evening. The weather was kind and gave them a perfect night, and the party was held on the deck which was gaily decorated with small lights and flags. The ritual was cocktails and a buffet supper on board first, then later the party moved to the Roof Garden of the Hong Kong Hotel where dancing continued until the small hours, eggs and bacon being served at the end. There was an enormous crowd up there which was continually being swelled by the crowds from downstairs who came up for more dancing after the band had stopped below. The ladies appeared to be kept very busy with the dancing, and seemed to have no time to sit at all, some were even changing partners in the middle of the dance floor not being allowed to return to the table for a moment. It was a great shame the American wives were not able to arrive in time for the party their boat being a day late. Several people from the Halloween Dinner arrived later in the evening, amongst them "Tiny" Munroe in his national dress.

"QUEENIE"

"Queenie" and her troupe had their farewell show on Saturday night at the Gloucester Hotel and a large crowd came to bid them farewell. The usual interchanging between the two hotels was taking place and both seemed equally full. Mrs. Beck who was dancing in the Hong Kong Hotel during the evening, was looking particularly attractive in black and was in a large party. Miss Williams just back from her holiday was dining in the Gloucester with Lt. Butler. The Taggart were in the Roof Garden until late. It was nice to see them back once more after so long and both looking so well. Mr. "Archie" Ritchie was with them, he was just passing through on his way south and was only able to spend two days here, and in that short space of time was much in demand. Mrs. Turner, dancing in the Gloucester, was wearing the most lovely gold lame dress and was dining with her husband and Commander Gray. The Eccles and the Robinsons were dining together at the Gloucester, and Mrs. Addis, who has just recently returned from Shanghai was dining with Lt. Pack-Bersford.

The Cavanagh Mainwarings were in a party with the Dodwells and one or two others. Audrey Steele was dining and dancing with Alec Pearce, they always seem to dance so well together. The Weldon were celebrating their wedding anniversary, Mrs. Weldon looking very sweet as usual. The Hayters were in the Roof Garden later in the evening with the Conways, who unfortunately for Hong Kong, are leaving for home very shortly, the Cross' were also with them. "Queenie" gave a very good final performance and we were sorry to say good-bye to her, but possibly she will come back and pay Hong Kong another visit later on.
